Meetings of the Committee on Accounts and Claims are held on the Friday preceeding the last Monday of each month at 7. 30 o'clock p. m. at the city clerk's office.

INAUGURAL ADDRESS

DELIVERED BY MAYOR SAMUEL B. SMITH, MARCH 20, 1895.

Gentlemen of the City Council:

In assuming the duties of the office to which I have been elected, I appreciate fully the difficulties and responsibilities of the situation. I realize, that to fill the position so ably occupied by our retiring Mayor, who has been called to a higher and broader field of usefulness, is no small task ; but relying on your sympathy and cordial co-operation, I shall do my best to meet the approval of yourselves, and the people whose servants we are. We are assembled together upon this the third year of our city life, under much different conditions from those which existed when our city was incorporated. Then prosperity and plenty blessed our land, everybody was hopeful and looked forward to a continuance of good times. Now all is changed. Business is stagnated, or struggling along without profit, hoping almost against hope for the dawn of a "brighter day." The pay of the laboring man (if he has employment) is small. Everybody, rich and poor as well as the middle class, alike feel the need of economy. Under these changed conditions we recognize the necessity of a change in the management of our city affairs. What was right then is wrong now, nay, almost criminal. Everything must be adjusted upon the lowest possible basis consistent with good service. I do not mean by this that we should be niggardly in our appropriations ; but while these times last we should do only what is necessary to keep in good running order what we now have, and let those things wait which are in any sense a luxury. .

There are many things which we must have ; there are others that can and must wait for better times. The money annually expended is raised by taxation ; and the people are obliged to pay these taxes whether they will or no ; in fact they are a bottom mortgage on their persons and property. This tax falls heaviest upon our laboring men who have a home but owe something on it ; and when these men are out of work, or are obliged to work for small pay it is almost impossible for them to meet their obligations. We should see to it that these people are not burdened unnecessarily. With the power of fixing these taxes under our control, while we should not pursue a niggardly policy and thereby inaugurate an era of parsimony, which is false economy, we should see to it that all expenses are kept within the established revenues and appropriations. The people have a right to demand that we should spend the money wisely and economically. A right to demand a dollar's worth for every dollar expended. Let us therefore make a record for prudence and strict economy this year which will result in imposing less taxes and spending less money, having due regard to our actual needs and necessities.

FINANCES.

If we know how we stand financially, and keep it constantly in mind, we shall be less likely to run into extravagancies, and will be better able to meet the demands upon the treasury as they arise.

The debt as it existed February 15th is as follows :

Town of Laconia 4 per cent bonds, due
1911 to 1924, $5,000 payable each year,	$65,000
City funding and sewer 4 per cent bonds,
due 1925 to 1940, $7,000 each year . .	115,000
Ward 6, 3½ per cent coupon notes, due
1895 to 1909, $1,000 each year	15,000
<hr/>
Total bonded debt	$195,000

Floating debt	$33,380.75
Less cash on hand, bills receivable and un- collected taxes	22,788.72
Net floating debt	$1,0592.03

The above assets are taken at their face value and, of course, will be subject to quite a shrinkage, so it will be safe to call the net floating debt $15,000.00, making our entire debt $210,000.00.

I would recommend that this floating debt be funded into coupon notes bearing $3\frac{1}{2}$ per cent interest, payable semi-annually, free from local taxation, payable in easy payments each year, say from \$3,000 to \$5,000 per year, the last becoming due in 1910, the year before the first block of the town of Laconia sewer bonds becomes due. So that we shall have the time from now to the maturity of the first block of the town bonds in which to issue short time obligations to pay for improvements which we cannot pay for all in one year's assessment. The recommendation of your Finance Committee for the present year calls for an assessment of about \$18.50 on a thousand dollars in Wards 1, 2, 3, 4 and 5; and about \$20 in Ward 6. This will bring into the treasury about \$89,000.00, which together with the revenue from all other sources will make a total of about \$106 000. The appropriations as recommended amount to \$99,892.46 leaving a small balance for emergencies. Thus you will see that any considerable increase in the appropriations means an increase in the debt.

HIGHWAYS.

The expenditures in this department for the past two years have been quite large and extraordinary. The work done has been largely of a permanent character and will not have to be repeated for years to come. I would recommend this year that more attention be given to the streets in the centre and more travelled portions of the city and that less money be expended for the opening up and developing of new streets and outlying localities to the detriment of that portion of the city which is more frequently travelled and with heavier teams. Our roads out of the compact parts are in excellent condition and need only small outlays for the present.

SIDEWALKS.

Our city today has more and better sidewalks than most any city of its size anywhere; and for the next few years our appropriations for concreting need not be large. There are many streets in the outlying parts of the city where walks could be built of other and cheaper material which would give perfect satisfaction for years and would then be in good condition to concrete when we have plenty of money to do so.

CITY ENGINEER.

Your attention is called to the recommendation of the City Engineer in regard to the re-surveying of our streets and the establishment of their boundaries. While we may not be able to make much progress on it this year it will be well to keep it in mind as it is a matter of considerable importance and may become more so later on.

FIRE DEPARTMENT.

Our fire apparatus is in excellent condition and should be kept so. The Chief Engineer recommends the purchase of additional hose which I think should be made. He also called attention to the necessity for better quarters; and I earnestly call your attention to it, to the end that at the earliest opportunity a building may be erected upon the site of the old building on Water street large enough to accommodate this department, the Police department, lobbies and police court room and the city stables. This building need not be of an expensive character; and if in your wisdom you see fit to make a commencement this year I would recommend that the payment be provided for by issuing 1 to 5 year coupon notes at $3\frac{1}{2}$ per cent interest and free from local taxation. These notes will be readily taken by our own people; and in this way we would not feel the burden heavily.

HYDRANT SERVICE.

We have now in use eighty-five hydrants for which we are paying $30 each per year for water supply under contract expiring the latter part of the present year. We are also paying the water company for water for our sewer flushing tanks under a contract which expires March 1, 1902; also for watering troughs, drinking fountains, school buildings and other city buildings; and I would recommend that a committee be appointed to negotiate a new contract embracing all these items.

SCHOOLS.

With this department in the control of a board elected by the people we have little to do except in providing the money which in our judgment its needs require. The recommendations of your Finance Committee, as well of those of the school board will be placed before you, and you will do in the matter what in your wisdom seems fit. The board recommends the erection of a school house to take the place of the one on Pear street in Ward 6. It will be for you to decide whether it shall be built this year or not. The city report when published will give you a very full and comprehensive account of the schools, which I need not here recite.

POLICE DEPARTMENT.

The control of the police force has by a late act of the legislature been taken from the City Council and placed in the hands of three commissioners to be appointed by the Governor; and we have only to fix the compensation of the commissioners and the members of the force.

PARKS.

There has been expended upon Folsom Park and paid Mr. Folsom the past year $432.98 - $100.00 of which was required by the terms of the deed, the balance in clearing the trees from a part of the drives, leaving a balance of $67.02 which has been transferred to other accounts which have been overdrawn. The stumps of the trees removed have been left on the ground, and they present rather an unsightly appearance ; and I would recommend that an appropriation be made sufficiently large to pay the $100.00 due Mr. Folsom and remove the stumps. The balance left over from the appropriations of 1893 and 1894 would have been sufficient had they not been taken for other purposes.

PUBLIC LIBRARY.

By the generous provisions of the will of the late N. B. Gale our library will be self-sustaining in the near future; and your Finance Committee have recommended a smaller sum for it this year, which will not provide for much of an increase, believing that in view of the liberal appropriations in the past and of the future prospects, our people will be satisfied with a small increase at this time.

SEWERS.

We have one of the best systems of sewers in the country, in perfect running order, which has cost in the vicinity of \$115,000.00, and is $18\frac{3}{8}$ miles in length. This, although as perfect as can be made, like every other thing made by man, needs the constant attention of an experienced and careful man ; and such a one we have in our present superintendent. This system of sewers put in and kept running at so much expense is for the convenience and the protection of the health and lives of our people. But if they do not avail themselves of its privileges it is so much of their money wasted. I am well aware that the first cost of connecting our houses with it is considerable, still when weighed against the convenience, health and lives of our families it seems so small that the wonder is, to me, that all the houses in the city are not so connected instead of only 345 ; and I urge upon our people the necessity of immediately availing themselves of the privilege their money has provided them. By so doing they not only protect the health and lives of themselves and families, but the more houses there are connected the better it is for the sewers.

LAKE COMPANY CASES.

There is now pending in the Courts a suit for the abatement of taxes on the Lake Company's property in Ward 6, which if successful will materially reduce the tax revenue of that ward; and I recommend the appointment of a committee to resist this suit to the utmost, believing that a gross injustice will be done the city if the former ruling of the court is sustained.

BUILDINGS AND FIRE PRECINCT.

I recommend the passage of an ordinance prohibiting the erection of wooden buildings within certain limits of the city.

CONCLUSION.

In conclusion, I will say that I shall bring to the work of the office to which I have been chosen my best endeavor. I shall apply the same rules and be controlled by the same motives that have governed me in my private affairs; not so much because it is my duty to do so, but because I take great pride and a deep interest in the prosperity and success of our beautiful city. I trust that we are all of us actuated by the same motives. All want to do what is best for the greatest number of our people. Let us then take hold and work together as one man for the good of the whole city, forgetting what is in the past and press forward toward the good which is before us, remembering that while it sounds well to talk of economy and lower taxes, that it is not so much upon what we say as what we do that depends our success in the management of our city affairs.

ADDRESS DELIVERED BY THE MAYOR, SEPTEMBER 30, 1895.

Gentlemen of the Council:

Tonight being the semi-annual meeting of the City Council it is fitting, and perhaps profitable, that we should review our doings for the past six months. You will remember that in making the appropriations for the year that your committee on finance first went over the list very carefully and presented for your consideration what in their judgment was safe to expend for the various departments, assuming that the rate of taxation should not exceed two per cent in Ward 6 and a proportionate rate in the other wards, which was in the opinion of our people as high a rate as the times warranted. You will also remember that the council went over the list with great care and deliberation (taking two evenings for considering it) and the following list was adopted, which raised the gross amount of the appropriations dangerously near to the full amount of the tax and income of the city from the various sources, and left a very small margin, if any, for emergencies.

You will see by these figures that we are living fully up to our income; and must curtail our expenses in most of our departments if we would live within it. Especially is this true of our schools. The Board of Education spent last year, for schools alone, to say nothing of the alterations and repairs, $25,774.07. This six months expenditures are $9,777.08 as against $10,811.92 last year. The expenditures for the seven months ending Sept. 30 are $12,789.74 as against $12,159.50, or $630.24 more this year than last for the first seven months. With the same rate of expenditure you can judge whether the money will hold out or not. We have, then, to meet our expenses for the balance of the year.

For Highways and bridges	$4,423.67
Schools	9,710.26
Fire department	3,769.41
Police department	1,593.49
City engineering	108.65
Sewer maintenance	1,308.88

For Miscellaneous expenses	$ 308.59
Health department	41.44
Support of poor	228.09

In view of the lesson taught by the foregoing figures we are led to ask that if through a mistaken zeal to make a great show and to make their administration a marked one; or through a reckless disregard of all common economic rules, with a spirit of "—— the expense, we must have it," a department (which is semi-independent of the City Council) squanders the people's hard earned money, who is responsible? Not the Mayor and Council, surely. For the more I have familiarized myself with the affairs of the city and the manner in which they are conducted, I am more thoroughly convinced that the appropriations we made last March for the various departments were amply sufficient for all their needs, if the affairs were conducted in even an ordinarily prudent manner; and because of this belief I shall approve of no additional appropriation, except for a manifestly inadequate appropriation, or for an unforeseen emergency; and heads of departments, and all those intrusted with the expenditure of the public money will see to it that they, in no case, exceed their appropriation. I have cautioned certain heads of departments repeatedly, before this. I do so now, in this public manner, that the responsibility of a shortage may rest where it belongs; not with the Council; not with the Mayor. So much for the past. Let us now for a few moments turn our attention to the future. In the words of the poet :

"Our wants are many; and if told
Would muster many a score;
And were each wish a mint of gold,
We still would wish for more."

We want, and need, several new school houses which will cost in the aggregate, say \$20,000.00. A building for the police and fire departments and city offices, costing from \$25,000.00 to \$30,000.00. A steam road roller costing from \$4,000 to \$5,000. New roads without number; and we shall be compelled to build two or three and perhaps four new bridges in the near future, which should be of steel, and will cost in the vicinity of ten to twenty thousand dollars each, amounting to \$60,000. Aggregating \$115,000. This much is in sight now; and I apprehend that our calls will be more rather than less. Let us see how we are to pay for these things. Our valuation last spring was \$4,754,102 and with economy we can pay our current expenses with our present rate of taxation, yielding \$90,639.36. Next year our valuation may possibly be \$4,800,000; and a $2\frac{1}{4}$ per cent tax would yield \$108,000, which would give us some \$15,000 which we could expend for new work; and thus we could in a few years get what we need and pay as we go. An increase of debt is the other way to provide for these things; but this means also increased taxation; for the interest will have to be paid semi-annually, and the principal in a few years. Our interest account now is nearly \$10,000, or about one-ninth of what we raise by taxation, and every \$1,000 of debt adds at least \$40 to the tax. A state law limits the bonded debt of five per cent of a city's valuation, which in our case, (assuming that our valuation will be \$4,800,000 next year), will be \$240,000. Our bonded debt now is \$212,000, leaving a margin of \$28,000 which we could bond, (provided that the Ward 6 coupon notes were not considered a city obligation and in the nature of a bond). If they were considered in the nature of a bond it would reduce the amount we could issue to \$14,000, and these bonds, under the law, are payable a proportionate amount each year, for fifteen years, which means increased taxation. So that whichever way we turn, increased taxation or a moderation of our wants confronts us. In this connection the wise words of the first Mayor of the city of Franklin, the present presiding judge of our court, in his inaugural address will not be out of place. In speaking of the change from a town to a city form of government he says:

“In the conduct of the business of this city we must remember that though we are a city in form of government, there is now no more property to be taxed; there are now no more persons to pay taxes than yesterday, and there can be no new expenditures which would not have been justified as a town. In the expenditures which you will be called upon to make, a strict and unceasing watchfulness will be necessary to avoid any imputation of extravagance. A business-like and economical administration must be had, but we must not mistake parsimony or niggardliness for economy. Whatever should be done at all should be done well. A small saving in first cost of any enterprise is often a large expense in the end." Fortunate the people, indeed, who have such a wise mayor. Happy will be the people who heed his suggestions and profit by them. Our people, I fear, have yet to learn that we cannot have all we want as a city any more than we can as individuals. In view of all this it will be seen that we must be exceedingly careful and only undertake work that is absolutely necessary; and then only after the ways and means to pay have been well considered and provided. Our credit is "A" No. 1 now. Let us do nothing to impair it.

FRANK L. GILMAN, Collector,

STREET DEPARTMENT.

REPORT OF STREET COMMISSIONER.

To the City Council :

It becomes my duty as Street Commissioner to submit a report of the work done under my supervision during the past year. There has not been much work of a permanent character done owing to the small appropriation. A surface sewer has been put in on Harvard street and the street put to a grade from Pleasant to Main at a cost of $312; Woodland and Sheridan streets have been built and opened to travel; North street has been cut down, bounds established and graded to the satisfaction of all the abutters; the sewer and sidewalk work at The Weirs has been completed. The cost of all the work that came in the special appropriation, including land damage to B. F. Drake on North street, was $2,498.10, leaving a balance of $1.90 to go to the transfer account.

During the year the streets outside the city proper have been machined and put in very good shape considering what we had to do with. The bushes were not cut on account of our being short of funds; if they could be cut, instead of having a forest beside our streets, three or four years from now, we should have grass; and, besides making it much more pleasant for driving during the stay of our city friends in the summer, it would be a great saving to road breaking.

During the year a shed suitable to house the snow roller, road machine and all tools that belong to the city, has been built at The Weirs at the expense of about $75. We have a sidewalk plow and the walks are broken out up there as in the rest of the city.

On some of our principal streets work of a permanent character has got to be done in order to make them suitable for the travel of heavily loaded teams, and to do that the city is obliged to have more tools. We have now as good a stone crusher as there is made and to make it of use to the city, I would recommend buying a 12-ton steam road roller. By having this we can make a small amount of macadamized street every year and in a short time have all our streets macadamized at a great saving of expense.

I will state again that we have several old wooden bridges liable to give out at any moment. Elm street bridge will have to be replanked and how much more is necessary to be done I cannot tell until the work is commenced; the expense will not be less than $1,000. Church street bridge must be repaired early in the spring at an expense of $400; The Weirs bridge will have to be replanked at a cost of $200; and the Bay street bridge will require new plank at a cost of about $200. The bridge on Beacon street will have to be torn down and I would recommend the erection of an iron one.

During the coming year a surface sewer should be placed on Pleasant street and one on Valley street and so avoid many of the difficulties that have been experienced during the past year.

Respectfully submitted,

CHARLES E. BUZZELL, Street Commissioner.

CONCLUSION.

The sewers are all in good condition, and as far as reported, are giving entire satisfaction.

The system for Ward 6 has been fully completed and is now in good working order, one hundred and twenty connections having been made to date.

These sewers will require careful attention for the next two years, especially the inverted siphon at Messer Bridge, where the velocity is very small during the low water period of Lake Winnipiseogee.

Laconia's sanitary condition today, I feel assured, is equal if not superior to that of any other city in this state.

Respectfully submitted,

WILLIAM NELSON, Superintendent of Sewers.

REPORT OF THE CITY ENGINEER.

To the City Council:

I herewith submit the third annual report of this department for the year ending Feb. 15, 1896.

RECEIPTS.

Appropriations, 1885	$300.00
Amount unexpended	1.19
	————— $298.81

EXPENDITURES.

Paid for pay roll, labor	$181.85

“ car fares and miscellaneous expenses	16.25
“ instruments and office furniture	36.66
“ job team hire	5.00

	————— $298.81

CONCLUSION.

The laying out of new streets together with the widening and straightening of some of the old ones, setting stone bounds and giving locations for water pipes, etc., comprised the duties of this department during the past year.

Owing to the small amount of the yearly appropriation allotted to this work, it is impossible to do more than what is absolutely required for the time being. Very little attention can be paid to matters which although very important and growing more so every day, are allowed to remain untouched. This refers to the grades and lines of nearly all of the old streets in the city which need to be established and put in proper shape. It would be much easier and cheaper to do this now than at any other time, for the reason that many of the older inhabitants can remember points in connection with the original street layouts which are very helpful and which should have appeared in the old town records, but were for some reason or other omitted.

Property is also growing more valuable, and as quite a number of buildings, to our present knowledge, are occupying portions of certain streets, it would seem that a vigorous overhauling of this matter would not only be well for the city but would place some private individuals upon a very much better footing.

Although this matter has been brought to your attention before, still I feel it my duty to keep it constantly in mind so that even in the rush and bustle of business demanding immediate consideration you will not allow it to escape the serious thought which it merits.

Respectfully submitted,

WILLIAM NELSON, City Engineer.

POLICE DEPARTMENT.

REPORT OF POLICE COMMISSIONERS.

To the City Council :

We have the pleasure of presenting to you, the first annual report of the City Marshal, to the Board of Police Commissioners for the year ending February 15th, 1896. And herewith, we submit the same in detail for your careful consideration.

There have been no changes in the department, either by death, removal or resignation, since we assumed control and made the appointments, neither have there been any charges brought before us against any officer, in any respect, which fact must present itself as a very commendable one in favor of each officer, and the department in general, and in conclusion, we feel glad to say that the City of Laconia has a police force made up of honest, trustworthy, concientious men who perform their duty cheerfully, without fear or favor, as the law may define.

By direction of the Board of Police Commissioners.

GEO. W. THOMPSON, Clerk.

The roster of the department will be found on pages 21 and 22 of this report.

As will be seen by the foregoing report there has been a marked decrease in the number of arrests as compared with former years. This is especially true of drunkenness, there having been but 85 arrests for that offense as against 219 the previous year and 199 for the year ending Feb. 15, 1894. Notwithstanding the decrease however, the department has had to deal with many different offenses, some of which were of a quite serious nature, but when crime has been committed I have spared neither time nor distance in the pursuit of the perpetrators, and for the success attained I am indebted to the officers for their co-operation and assistance in my efforts to secure the criminals.

DISCIPLINE.

The discipline of the department is good, and so far as I know is free from petty strife and jealousy, a fact which commends itself and reflects credit upon the members, who at all times have manifested a desire to obey all the rules and regulations and faithfully perform all the duties imposed upon them. Judging from the interest shown I feel assured that the officers, one and all, will strive in the future as in the past to make advancement in everything that will tend to elevate the force to as an efficient standard as is possible for one of its number.

POLICE STATION.

On calling your attention to this matter gentlemen, I do so with a great deal of earnestness, believing that the needs of the department demand more suitable quarters in which to transact its business. The condition of our present lockup is too well known to need discussion here. I desire however, to submit the following recommendation for the consideration of the city council. If owing to the hard times of the past year the city does not feel able to erect a building just now, I would recommend the purchase of four steel portable cells at a probable cost of $375.00, rent suitable quarters sufficiently large to admit the cells and accommodate the Police Court and officers, with a private office for the city marshal. In this way you not only provide better quarters for the department, but have a place of detention in which the most desperate criminal may be confined with perfect safety. I sincerely hope that the city government will give this matter immediate attention.

CONCLUSION.

In closing I take this opportunity to express my appreciation for the kind assistance and apparent confidence of the Board of Police Commissioners. To his honor, the Mayor and members of the council and all the city officers, I would extend my sincere thanks for the considerate treatment this department has received at their hands.

Respectfully submitted,

HENRY K. W. SCOTT, City Marshal.

REPORT OF CITY SOLICITOR.

To the City Council :

I have the honor to submit my report as City Solicitor of Laconia. Of the litigated cases in which the city was interested mentioned in my last report, the following have been disposed of, viz.: That of Charles A. Jewett, which was a petition for assessment of damages claimed on account of alleged change of the grade of Garfield street, made in the summer of 1892 ; that of Rose E. Colby, which was a petition for an award of damages by reason of a change of the grade of Union avenue, opposite her premises. In both of these cases hearings have been had and damages assessed by the County Commissioners, and the cases have been finally adjusted. In the case of Messrs. Gardner and Addison G. Cook against the city, which was an appeal from the laying out of an extension of Bay street, as well as from the damages assessed in said laying out, an amicable adjustment was arrived at between the Messrs. Cook and the city and no trial was had. During the year there have been entered in court against the city, the petitions of Mary L. Beauchemin for land damages occasioned as she alleges by the laying out of a new street running north from Oak street, and a petition of Langdon G. Morgan for an assessment of damages on account of a change of grade of the highway in front of his premises in Ward 1. A hearing has been had before the County Commissioners in the matter of the Morgan petition, and report rendered by them assessing the damages. No hearing has yet been had in the matter of the petition of Mary L. Beauchemin, but it is expected that the case will be disposed of by trial at an early date. The important litigation involving the question of the amount of taxes assessed by the city on property on the Winnipiseogee

Lake Cotton and Woolen Manufacturing Company, is still before the court. These cases are of the utmost importance to the city; they involve very vital legal problems. The question of the assessment of taxes by the town of Gilford against the Lake Co. has been the cause of a vast amount of important litigation commencing more than ten years ago. Since the incorporation of the city litigation of the same character has been constant. No legal problem which is likely to arise for years to come is of more vital importance to the city than these cases. What the final outcome of the present litigation will be it is impossible to tell. It is my earnest hope that the result of the litigation will in the end be favorable to the position taken by those in authority in the city government.

There are also on the law docket of the supreme court several cases brought by the town of Gilford against various parties. These cases were referred to in my last report. This litigation grows out of a claim made by the town of Gilford for certain taxes collected and uncollected and for certain other property, and is important as a considerable sum is involved, and the construction of the city charter upon the points in question will have to be determined. Numberless other questions have arisen during the year demanding legal opinions, to which attention has been given.

Very respectfully submitted,

STEPHEN S. JEWETT, City Solicitor.

Upon the appearance of contagious disease it is desirable to isolate the case from as many other members of the family as possible.

If this could be done the disease might oftentimes be confined to one case, instead of running through an entire family. In small houses the arrangement or lack of rooms frequently renders this impossible.

Also in fumigating, the sulphur fumes penetrate everywhere, notwithstanding our efforts to prevent it.

The family is therefore compelled to endure not only the ordinary inconvenience of fumigation, but much suffering from the suffocating sulphur fumes.

Although vacant houses may be plenty, it is sometimes impossible to obtain one for the purpose required.

We would therefore, respectfully recommend the provision of at least three or four rooms at the disposal of the Board of Health.

They should be so situated that either patients, or members of an infected family could be removed there and properly cared for, or a family could be comfortable while the home is being fumigated.

We would also suggest that a city water closet be built under the Main Street bridge.

The following mortality ratio was compiled and kindly furnished us by City Engineer William Nelson :

REPORT OF CITY PHYSICIAN.

To the City Council:

Since making my last report as City Physician only a very few of our citizens have been obliged to call on this office for professional services.

Those who have made a demand on me have been thoroughly worthy of aid. We have been very fortunate that no epidemic has troubled us. A large part of our work has been among the aged and those unable to work.

The vaccination of our school children is very complete, only about fifty presenting themselves for vaccination the past year.

Respectfully submitted,

J. G. QUIMBY, M. D., City Physician.

REPORT OF OVERSEER OF THE POOR, WARDS 2, 3, 4 and 5.

To the City Council:

The amount paid during the year for the support of poor, an itemized account of which see elsewhere in this report, was $830.23

On the whole we think the outlook in this department is encouraging, although the amount expended is larger than last year. All the increase and more, has come from emergencies rather than from the extremely poor class. By this I mean two cases of diphtheria, (fatal), one case of prolonged sickness and death, and the board at the asylum for the insane at $4 per week of Wm. Black, who was sent there in September, 1895.

All cases have been carefully attended to and but comparatively little suffering can be reported at the present time.

Respectfully submitted,

H. W. CAREY, Overseer of Poor.

APPARATUS.

The general condition of the apparatus is good with the exception of the hose carriage for the Hose Co. No. 6. They should have a new carriage at once.

FIRE ALARM TELEGRAPH.

The Laconia Water Works Co. refused to renew their contract for the steam whistle in Ward 6, which compelled the purchase of a bell to be placed in the Bayside mill tower and although not as good an alarm as the whistle, I think when the people get accustomed to it they will be fairly satisfied. The fire alarm has been in charge of H. H. Wardwell as superintendent.

HYDRANT SERVICE.

We have 103 hydrants in use including 17 private ones.

HOSE.

We have about 9,500 feet of good, serviceable hose.

RECOMMENDATIONS.

I would recommend that new fire alarm boxes be located as follows : Corner of Main and Harvard street ; corner of Pleasant and Oak street ; corner of Pine and Merrimack street ; Main street corner Pine ; Court street corner Pearl ; Union avenue near horse car stables ; Mechanic street, Valley street.

I again renew my recommendation of last year for a horse hose wagon to be located in Ward 6.

I would recommend an increase of pay for the firemen as I consider the present pay altogether too small. I would again call your attention to the dilapidated condition of the Central Fire Station and would renew my recommendation of last year for an appropriation of $15,000.00 together with $5,000.00 for the Police Department for a new building to be occupied by the Fire and Police departments.

In conclusion, I desire to extend my thanks to His Honor Mayor Smith and to the members of the city council for the interest they have manifested in the welfare of the department and the support they have given the department the past year.

To the City Marshal and Police my thanks are expressed for their hearty cooperation. To my associate engineers and officers and men of the department my sincere thanks are expressed for their faithful attention to duty and the promptness and obedience with which they have responded to every call.

Respectfully submitted,

GEO. A. SANDERS, Chief Engineer.

PUBLIC LIBRARIES.

REPORT OF THE TRUSTEES.

We herewith submit the report of librarians and treasurer for the year ending at date. The amount appropriated for the past year by the council, seven hundred dollars, is barely sufficient to meet the actual expenses. If any increase is to be made during the coming year in procuring new books some additional appropriation must be made.

JULIA S. BUSIEL, Librarian.

To the Board of Trustees of the Public Libraries of Laconia.

GENTLEMEN :—

I have the honor to submit to you my fourth annual report as Librarian of the Lakeport Public Library, for the year ending January 31, 1896. I am pleased to be able to state that every book belonging to the Library was found on the shelves or charged to a patrons at the annual examination of the Library in January. No books were lost during the year from any cause. The books have been returned more promptly than in previous years. No books have been discarded. Many of the books are so completely worn out as to be unfit for circulation. They are retained on the shelves because there are no funds to replace them and, occasionally, patrons wish to take them even in their mutilated condition.

It has become very difficult to find acceptable books, that they have not already read, for most of the patrons of the Library. It is quite impossible to supply the demands of the pupils in public schools for books bearing on their school work. Teachers require their pupils to prepare essays on some subject, biographical, historical or otherwise. The pupils come to the Library for the needed information. In many cases this cannot be supplied. There is urgent need of new and popular books and also books for the use of pupils in the public schools. One teacher has prepared a list of desirable books to be read by her pupils. Less than half are to be found in this Library. Those we do have are in constant use.

During the year gifts of books and pamphlets have been received from the kind friends mentioned below :

Bowdoin College Library, 1 pamphlet.

Hon. W. E. Chandler, 1 book.

Dover Public Library, 2 pamphlets.

Hon. J. H. Gallinger, 2 books.

Thomas Ham, Esq., 2 books.

Indian Rights Association, 5 pamphlets.

Board of Library Commissioners of N. H., 1 pamphlet.

Maimonides Free Library, 1 pamphlet.

State of New Hampshire, 4 books.

John H. Pray, Sons & Co., 1 pamphlet.

Rochester Public Library, 1 pamphlet.

A summary of the present condition of the Library, its increase and use during the year is given below:

SCHOOL REPORTS.

SCHOOL REPORTS.

REPORT OF THE BOARD OF EDUCATION.

To the Citizens of the City of Laconia :

During the past year your schools have made good, healthful progress and with very few exceptions have given not only general, but individual satisfaction.

The instructors employed in the public schools of Laconia at the present time are not mere teachers, but are professionals, and each and every one have been especially prepared for their work, in most instances in long courses, and final graduation from normal schools, or have practically become proficient as especially fitted persons for such work by long experience in other fields before employment here. And in other instances there are many who possess both qualifications. Nevertheless, all who are now employed as public teachers in this city gained such positions by passing satisfactorily to the board and superintendent a rigid written examination upon all subjects that they were in any way liable to be required to teach during the coming school year.

No teacher is employed in our public schools unless they possess a certificate issued by this board as evidence of their ability not only to teach and impart such knowledge as all first class public schools in New England require to be taught, but that they possessed sufficient education to undertake such a work before their professional work began. Hence, it will be seen that your teachers are obliged to show especial proof of their fitness to teach before they can present themselves as candidates for election as teachers in this city.

Your school board appealed to you for more and better school-rooms in their report for 1895, with no effect except to obtain a couple rooms in the People's church on Court street, which are badly constructed for educational purposes. No amount of care on the part of teacher and janitor can make these rooms suitably heated and ventilated, to say nothing of the inconvenience to scholars and teachers imposed on them.

Your High School building is crowded by being obliged to give room for two schools in the Grammar grade. As long as this city maintains schools purely for results, all such overcrowding of school rooms become indirectly very expensive, for it is nothing less than an effectual system of self-cheating, or to use an old and inelegant phrase, a practice of economy that "saves at the spigot and wastes at the bung."

The present High School building cannot longer accommodate profitably more scholars than now comprise the High School scholars proper, and even this number is rapidly increasing, and to the delight of every one, we hope.

We, as a board, ask you severally to visit your schools and school-houses, and do so while school is in session. We feel sure that every fair-minded person, with the best interest of our schools at heart, will at once grant the urgent need of a new four-room building at this end of the city to relieve pressure in the High School building; and to receive the scholars now located in the People's church, and then in a worse room opposite the grist mill on Union avenue; one new four-room building to receive scholars that are obliged to occupy rooms in two old school buildings situated on Washington street and School street, respectively, in Ward 6, and another near Pear street, and discontinue not only the building there situated, but also the lot, neither of which are suitable for occupancy. With all these additional facilities there would be no room to spare, and all rooms in all probability would be well filled at beginning of another year. In fact, if something is not done this season to relieve this pressing necessity some of your scholars cannot be accommodated, and will have to be sent away when they present themselves to your teachers. They have only been kept in school the past year, as before indicated, by expensively crowding, and especially at the High School building has this been done.

Much of our furniture is getting old and should be repaired and some new material added yearly. This work has been neglected the past year on account of lack of funds with which to do such work. A little can be done each year, and at a less expense than if allowed to all go to pieces together. The school board should possess means to keep the exterior of the school buildings repaired, and the grounds clean and attractive, so that this property may be an ornament to the city and inspiring and interesting to its youth.

To do this and maintain the present standard of your schools and continue the present school-year of thirty-six (36) weeks will require the expenditure of twenty-five thousand dollars annually ($25,000).

A. H. HARRIMAN, President.

REPORT OF THE SUPERINTENDENT OF SCHOOLS.

To the Board of Education :

I herewith submit my seventh annual report as superintendent of schools.

The past year has seen an unusually large number of changes in our teaching force. Of the teachers at present employed, thirty seven per cent are serving their first year with us. Twelve teachers resigned at the close of last spring term; and as some of our best teachers were among this number, the task of filling their places and at the same time strengthening our teaching force was far from being an easy one. However, an earnest effort was made to secure the best teachers obtainable for the existing vacancies; and I believe that, notwithstanding the loss of several excellent teachers, our teaching force is stronger to day than it was one year ago. The position which the board has taken in insisting upon good general scholarship and either professional training or successful experience on the part of applicants for teachers' positions seems to me one that can not fail to improve the quality of the teaching in our schools. No amount of expenditure for salaries, equipment or supervision will secure good schools without competent teachers. It becomes desirable, then, to establish a standard by which applicants shall be judged. What are the necessary qualifications of a good teacher? What are the qualities which we desire that our teachers should possess?

1—Good general scholarship, certainly. There was a time when a common school education was considered a sufficient preparation for teaching a primary school; but if that was ever a sufficient preparation, it certainly is not so now. The primary school has changed in character within the past fifteen years. We now require the primary teacher to teach not only reading, spelling, writing and the elements of arithmetic, but she must also lay the foundation for the successful study of history and geography, physiology and the natural sciences; she must not only teach the children how to read, but what to read; she must develop a love for what is good and true; she must cultivate a taste on the part of her pupils for what is worth reading, or the mastery of the process may be an injury instead of a help to the child. She must teach the elements of all these things; and it is a mistake to suppose that it requires less scholarship to teach the elements of a subject to beginners than to teach the same subject to pupils a few years farther advanced. The teacher's knowledge of the subjects must be accurate, fresh and comprehensive, embracing far more than the few simple facts that she is called upon to teach. She can not develop in the children a love for good reading unless she possesses the discriminating taste that is born of wide and careful reading; and can bring before them at the right moment the literary gems which children love and weave around them the attractive personality of the author so that it all seems real to them and they are eager to know what else this good man or woman has said; she can not lead them with growing interest and enthusiasm along the pleasant approaches to history and geography unless she knows the subjects well; for their interest and enthusiasm must be kindled and fed from the abundant store of her own information: she can not teach them to study nature rightly till she herself has studied it long and found out many of its secrets. All these things come of liberal education, and the teacher needs them all.

2—Professional training. While it is not claimed that education has yet reached the development of an exact science, yet there are certain laws of mental growth, well established, and certain principles of instruction, based upon them which we know are sound; and which a teacher must follow in order to secure good results from her teaching. Common sense, unenlightened by a correct apprehension of educational principles, is not sufficient for the modern teacher. If the new education in many localities has been contrasted unfavorably with the old, if it is often asserted that the old time thoroughness has given place to a smattering of many things, it is not because we are teaching new things or teaching by new methods, but because our new education demands a knowledge of the art of teaching and school management which few of our teachers possess, and which too many still fancy that they can get along without.

It is true that teachers have gone into our schools without experience or professional training and have learned to teach, and teach well. That method of training is all right from the teacher's point of view, but the pupils can't stand it. Nobody knows how much material has been injured or spoiled in the process of learning to teach in this way; and I look upon children as valuable material, too valuable to be made the subject of crude experiment.

From the school board's point of view it makes little difference whether the teacher obtains her professional training in the Normal school or in the actual experience of teaching. The former method takes less time and the teacher pays the cost, by the latter method the training is acquired more slowly and the expense falls upon the pupils and their parents.

3—Character—and this is most important of all and includes a great deal. It does not mean simply teachers who are good; but teachers who present to their pupils every day in their own persons examples of men and women who think, feel and do what is right; and reach out strongly to others, extending an influence for good to all with whom they come in contact; teachers who are cheerful, hopeful, strong; whose firmness and justice command the respect and obedience of their pupils, as their sympathy and kindness hold their affection; teachers whose presence is an inspiration to their pupils and whose friendship is a pleasant remembrance forever.

We need, then, for our schools, teachers of scholarship, training and character; and these qualifications, it seems to me, should never be ignored in the appointment of teachers.

At the present time, sixty-seven per cent of our teachers are either college graduates or have pursued a thorough course of professional training ; sixteen per cent are graduates of our leading New Hampshire academies and have had several years of successful experience in the school-room. The remaining seventeen per cent have all had a high school education or its equivalent with one or more years of experience in teaching ; so that in the matters of scholarship and training we have made a distinct advance over our record of last year. I believe we have at present a capable body of teachers who are devoted to their work and who are doing their utmost for the children entrusted to their care. If the same teachers can be retained, I think we may look for a steady improvement in the quality of our work.

In this connection, the parents of our pupils could do much to improve the quality of the teaching if they would only go into the schools, find out what their children are doing and why they are doing what they are, (every good teacher can give a reason for her methods) become personally acquainted with the teachers of their children and evince an active, not necessarily meddlesome, interest in the way they are being trained.

Our schools and our teachers need more criticism from the community ;—not the kind of criticism which we receive,—that comes chiefly from those who have no children in school, who do not visit schools and who condemn the whole plan, purpose and performance of our modern school system because it isn't like the school which they remember. You might expect such a person to condemn, on the same ground, the power loom and sewing machine. We need the criticism of parents who do go into the schools, who know what we are doing and trying to do and the means that we are employing. That kind of criticism is intelligent and helpful and we welcome it. It is an inspiration to a teacher to feel that her work is understood, that the parents know what she is doing and will hold her responsible for her best work. On the other hand, once let a teacher feel that the parents of her pupils do not know the difference between good teaching and poor teaching, do not know (nor particularly care so that their children are promoted at the end of the year) how she managed her school and she must be something better than common clay if she does not do a good deal of slack and listless work.

In several cities noted for their good schools, parents have organized for the purpose of visiting schools and promoting their efficiency, and their influence has been most helpful. Such an organization would be welcome here in Laconia. It would make teaching a pleasanter occupation here and we should find it easier to keep our best teachers.

We have undertaken no new work during the past year nor do I think it advisable to add to our course of study at present. Our energies can be profitably employed in improving our present work. Manual training and the kindergarten must evidently wait the advent of more prosperous times, but they should not be lost sight of, for we need them both.

I wish to recommend for the ensuing year the establishment of an ungraded school for the accommodation of children who work in the mills or who for other reasons are unclassified. Under our present system they do not get the benefit which they should from their twelve weeks attendance and their presence is an injury to our primary schools. I would also recommend that the board maintain an evening school for the benefit of those who are above school age. Neither of the above are new suggestions, but I trust that the fact that they are of some years' standing may secure for them your favorable consideration.

I trust also that the work of rendering comfortable, attractive and safe our present school buildings may be continued. The expense of this work for the past two years has been considerable and has occasioned some criticism, but it was all work which has added to the children's comfort, enjoyment and safety; and that seems to me to be sufficient reason for doing it. At the present time we have eight school rooms where the furniture is old and dilapidated. It would add greatly to the comfort and enjoyment of both pupils and teachers as well as to the attractiveness of the rooms themselves if these rooms could be refurnished. Not all at once perhaps, for the expense would be considerable but two or more each year until the whole is done.

The total enrollment of our pupils has not increased greatly over the number recorded last year. Whatever gain we have made has been in the higher grade rather than in the primaries. It is fortunate perhaps that our gain has not been large; for we should be troubled to accommodate a much larger number than we now have. We have at present but one unoccupied school room and that is in an inaccessible part of the city and is, for the present at least, useless to us. We are using three rented rooms for school purposes, as we did last year. They were not satisfactory school rooms last year and are not so now.

Two of them are sufficiently clean and attractive, but the light and ventilation are very bad; the third isn't fit for a school room and never has been, although we have used it as such for five years because it was the only room that could be found. It is probable that more rooms will be needed the coming year to accommodate the grammar schools. The high school must have better accommodations. At present it numbers 137 pupils, and of these 35 sit in a room that is insufficiently lighted and 40 more are crowded into a room that should not accommodate more than 30. Under these conditions, good work and good discipline can not be obtained and the school is deserving of better treatment. It has enjoyed a steady and uninterrupted growth since the fall of 1891, and this growth is likely to continue. The next entering class will number about 50 and as there are only ten in the class which graduates in June, a substantial increase may be looked for next fall. 175 would probably be a safe estimate of the number of pupils next year.

It is very evident that either the high school or the three grammar schools in the same building must be accommodated elsewhere as the present building is not large enough to house them all. A six-room grammar building or a new high school building would solve the problem satisfactorily; and I am satisied that nothing else will do so. The hiring of basements, stores and assembly rooms for school purposes is a costly and unsatisfactory expedient and can be justified only on the plea of extreme necessity.

The work in the various schools has been in the main satisfactory for the past year. We have improved our teaching in some lines and are getting better results than ever before. I can see a decided improvement in our writing, nature work and history, and the work in drawing and music is gaining every year.

The attendance for the year has been good, though not unusually so. The appended table gives the total number of absences in half days as 24,002. This indicates that pupils too often stay away from school for trivial causes. 2,910 instances of tardiness for the year indicates that the virtue of punctuality is not properly appreciated by the citizens of Laconia. During the past year the teachers have been making an earnest effort to secure prompt attendance, and they have succeeded in reducing the number of tardiness somewhat; but it is still much too large, and the remedy for this evil lies largely in the hands of the parents. They must co-operate with the teachers if they wish their children to acquire the practical virtue of punctuality, a virtue that is highly esteemed in the business world, certainly; and for that reason, if for no other, it is one worth cultivating.

Teachers can do much to remedy the evils of irregular attendance and tardiness; and they will continue their efforts in this direction, yet the results obtained are not nearly as satisfactory as they would be if the parents, instead of tolerating and excusing the evil, would co-operate with the teachers in removing it.

It will be noted in the following tables that the average number belonging is relatively small, when compared with the total enrollment. I attribute this to the fact that we have a large shifting population which comes and goes as work here is plenty or scarce.

The variation in attendance has been very noticeable during the past year in our primary schools, though it has not been sufficient to warrant the closing of any one room. The effect of this variation is to make the cost for pupils somewhat high when the computation is based upon the average number belonging though it is lower than usual when based upon the total enrollment, and in either case, it is as low or lower than the cost reported in places of approximately the same population which are doing work of a similar character and quality.

The cost of maintaining the public schools is considerable, and it is an item that must inevitably grow with the growth of population. I do not believe that it should be the aim of the school officials to secure, nor do I believe that the general public desires, the cheapest system of schools, but the best.

Such a system should include as features—school accommodations which are beautiful, comfortable, safe and clean; a course of study which contains nothing of doubtful value and which includes, as far as may be, all those things which go to develop on the part of the pupils good intellects, sound bodies, skillful hands, kind hearts and right principles.

The education of good and intelligent American citizens will doubtless always be a matter involving considerable expense, but there is no indication that the supply of such citizens is likely to exceed the demand, neither is there at present any probability that a more efficient agency for the development of such citizenship will be found than is the public school. With all its imperfections, its present work justifies its existence and to the careful observer, it is daily proving that it is worth all that it costs.

Tables of statistics are appended giving various facts of interest in regard to the schools. More detailed information regarding the high school, music, drawing and truancy may be found in the special reports upon these subjects which are also appended.

Respectfully submitted,

W. N. CRAGIN, Superintendent of Schools.

HIGH SCHOOL REPORT.

Mr. W. N. Cragin, Superintendent of Schools :

I present the following report of the condition and needs of the high school. The school shows a gratifying increase in membership.

ATTENDANCE.

Although a class of twenty-five graduated in June, there are twenty more pupils in school to day than one year ago. As will be seen by table A in the appendix to this report, more than half the pupils are in the entering class. Sixty-five entered the school in September ; five have entered since then, and eight who had begun one of the four years' courses last year changed to the commercial course, making seventy-eight less four who have left school, leaving seventy-four first year pupils. Forty of these are taking the commercial course and thirty-four the four years' course. The second year pupils number thirty-one, twelve in the commercial and nineteen in the four years' course. The third year pupils number nineteen, seventeen in the four years' course and two in the commercial. There are eight fourth year pupils, all, of course, taking the four years' course. In addition to the above four pupils who graduated in June have returned to take up additional work, mostly in other courses than those which they originally pursued. Thus we have a total of one hundred and thirty-six pupils in school. As the graduating class consists of only ten pupils, we may expect about one hundred and ten of the present number to be in school next year, after allowing for the usual decrease. A very small entering class in the coming fall would bring the enrollment up to one hundred and fifty. Thus we are assured of a fair sized school in the immediate future.

SCHOLARSHIP.

The next thing to engage our earnest attention should be improvement of scholarship. Good scholarship can only be secured by regular attendance and close attention to school work. Whatever is done to improve the average scholarship will undoubtedly tend to lessen disciplinary work, increase regularity of attendance, and decrease tardiness. On the other hand any improvement in these matters will as certainly result in higher scholarship. I believe the time has now arrived when we can demand from every pupil earnest work throughout his course, and I shall certainly oppose the granting of a diploma to any pupil who has not faithfully performed the work of his several studies and thereby gained the training and power which naturally result therefrom. I trust that you and the Board of Education will act with me in this matter.

The introduction of the new course of study, which was adopted by the Board last summer, is, I believe, having a favorable effect on scholarship. To do the work marked out in the several courses requires earnest and faithful effort on the part of the pupil. When it is plainly understood that a certain number of subjects must be pursued by all pupils, and that, while certain essential subjects are required of all, there is a large number to choose from to make up the remainder, I believe the course will be popular. This again will have a favorable influence on scholarship. For pupils will do more efficient work in subjects which they have chosen themselves than in those which they are forced to take.

The system of ranking recently adopted by the Board meets my hearty approval. I feel sure that this system will produce an improvement in scholarship, and an improvement on the part of those who are most deficient. Every one will strive to come within the satisfactory limit. Those who have been striving for rank for the sake of rank alone will be discouraged, but will strive for the noble purpose, to do well what one has to do, not knowing or caring whether he be above his neighbor. The moral standard of the school will not fail to be raised under this system.

COMMERCIAL COURSE.

By reference to table B it will be seen that more than half the first year pupils are taking the commercial course. Two reasons in addition to a desire to acquire a commercial training may be given for the great popularity of this course, viz: A belief that the work of the course is light and a desire to complete the school course as early as possible. The first of these reasons may disappear as the pupils become more familiar with the work of the various courses. The latter will continue to exist unless it should be deemed advisable to add a year to this course, and require as near as may be the same amount of work for each course. I have not sufficiently investigated the subject to be prepared to recommend to do this. Certainly a commercial training does not fit the average child for life's duties as well as the four-year English course, and it is to be regretted that so many who will not profit thereby should follow this course. However, we are giving to the large number pursuing the course the best training we are able with the facilities at our command.

CLASSICAL COURSE.

The very small number of pupils who have chosen Greek may render it advisable to do the work in that subject in two years instead of three. To give the time of a teacher for four periods a week for three years to a class of three pupils does not seem profitable.

GRADUATION EXERCISES.

The practice introduced last year of having a lecture by an able speaker instead of essays by the class, proves popular with parents and pupils. I trust this plan will continue.

LIBRARY.

Since the last report the citizens of the city have responded liberally to a request for aid to establish a school library. Some over three hundred dollars have been raised by three entertainments and by gifts of citizens. Gov. Busiel has given a set of Hitchcock's Geological Reports, and others have given an American Cyclopedea. About forty volumes on English and American history, and a copy of the Standard Dictionary have been purchased. The amount on hand will soon be expended. The books already in the school and those to be shortly provided will form a good beginning for a library. This should never be considered complete, but additions should be made to it each year.

SOCIAL LIFE AND VARIOUS SCHOOL ORGANIZATIONS.

I would encourage, and in so far as is possible, guide the social life of the pupils. I think the use of the high school hall should be granted them with proper restrictions for occasional entertainments. I would strongly oppose elaborate entertainments that require much time for preparation. But I think simple entertainments, easily prepared, are not only not injurious to the school, but make school life more enjoyable and enable the pupils to perform their daily tasks with light hearts.

During the last school year the cadets attained a good degree of proficiency in drill, but they failed to receive that benefit which would come through the services of an efficient drill master. I gladly welcome the appointment which the board has made this year. Some dissatisfaction has been shown with the plan, or lack of plan, of organization, which has been followed in the past. Therefore, at a recent meeting of all those interested it was decided to form a new organization, which was completed at a subsequent meeting. By the plan adopted this department of the school is placed under the control of the principal. It seems advisable that this and all other departments of the school should be under one head. I hope that with the new organization will come new life.

An athletic association was formed in the spring of 1895. By the generosity of the citizens a sufficient sum was subscribed to secure grounds and put a base ball team in the field. A strong contest was made with the team from Tilton and Holderness. In the fall a foot ball eleven was organized, but proved less successful.

Early in the present school year an orchestra composed entirely of high school pupils was formed and practices weekly at the close of school. It is composed of the following pupils:

Harry E. Davis, 1st year, leader and 1st violin.

Frank T. Durgin, 2nd year, 2nd violin.

Ernest Ringer, 1st year, cornet.

Frank E. Gilford, 1st year, clarinet.

Robert A. Foss, 3rd year, flute.

Carrie A. Colby, 3rd year, piano.

In the spring of 1895, the school began the publication of a periodical devoted to school interests. Four numbers have been issued.

EDITORS OF THE REVIEW.

Lillian L. Libby, 3rd year, literary.

Grace M. Colby, 3rd year, personals.

Lillian H. Page, 3rd year, locals.

Lona B. Mitchell, 2nd year, exchanges.

George W. Marden, Jr., 2nd year, athletics.

Clarence E. Rowe, 4th year, business manager.

I favor the formation of such societies so far as they can be successful without injuring the work of the pupils in their studies. I have aided in the establishment of the several features of school life mentioned above, believing, that in such ways, pupils receive a valuable training which cannot otherwise be secured during the school course, that interest in these subjects gives greater interest in their work, and that loyalty to the school is greatly strengthened by them.

ACCOMMODATIONS AND EQUIPMENTS.

In my report of last year I called attention to the great need of better accommodations. These have not been provided, and the need is still more pressing today. If that large portion of the pupils taking the commercial course are to be properly trained in commercial subjects, a room of sufficient size and properly fitted for the transaction of actual business must be provided. Either suitable accommodations should be furnished or the course discontinued. School work, as any other, if worth doing at all, is worth doing well.

About twenty pupils are obliged to sit at desks where the light is insufficient and where a large portion of the scanty supply received comes from the front. All the pupils must occupy even more unfavorable positions for an average of more than one recitation per day, or of about one day per week. In my opinion this is absolutely wrong, morally if not criminally wrong. Certainly the legislature when passing the compulsory education bill did not contemplate compelling a child to hazard the loss of his eyesight. Parents, however desirous they may be for their children to obtain a secondary education, are not willing for them to incur the possibility, not to say probability, of injuring their eyes thereby. And when they come to understand what danger there is in the high school, I believe they will seriously object to such conditions.

Another serious difficulty is the necessity of conducting two recitations at the same time in the same room. The work of one class often interferes with that of the other. The type-writing has to be done on two machines in the small room used for a library, store room for books and supplies, teachers' dressing room and principals office. Laboratories and fittings for them are needed.

With the strong probability of fifteen or twenty more pupils next year, shall we place them in a still more unfavorable situation, or shall rooms suited to the necessities of the school be provided?

TEACHERS.

In conclusion I wish to express my regret at the loss of Miss Moulton, the teacher who had been longest in the school and who is in every way qualified for the position which she held. I believe we have at present an able and enthusiastic corps of assistants, and hope there may be no changes at the close of the school year. It may be necessary, in view of the increased attendance, should there be classes in all the subjects of the courses, to employ another assistant in the near future.

Respectfully submitted,

H. H. TUCKER, Principal.

CLASS ODE.

By C. R. DAVIS.

Air—"Old Oaken Bucket."

We now bid farewell to our school days just ended,

The spring time of life, they are days of the past;

How swift flew the moments, how fair were the hours,

'Till now comes the time of our parting at last.

Too soon torn asunder the hearts that were blended,

And broken the ties that endear our school life;

But now all its joys and its sorrows are over,

At last we are summoned to life's earnest strife.

The days that have vanished we ne'er will forget them,
 Bright memories 'rising will keep them in mind,
 And sad are the thoughts of the parting and going,
 When we think that so soon we shall leave them behind.
 May sorrow ne'er darken our souls with repining,
 But Fortune's fair favors be ours to the last.
 The future may bring us the brightest of pleasures,
 But none can replace to us those that are past.

REPORT OF THE SUPERVISOR OF MUSIC.

Mr. W. N. Cragin Superintendent :

In reviewing the work of my department for the past year I do not hesitate to say that more systematic and better work has been performed and that the department is in a better condition than ever before since my connection with our schools.

My lessons have been given as punctually and with as few omissions as possible. Our schools are widely scattered and to meet every appointment on schedule time required the most favorable conditions.

The time devoted to each lesson is from twenty minutes to forty-five minutes.

During the past year careful attention has been given to the quality of the tone used by pupils in singing.

While it is now far from what I wish it was, I feel sure it is better than it was one year ago. Feeling that distinct articulation will remedy much of the "out of time" singing, I have made a point to correct that as much as possible and ask for clear articulation. I have during the past year insisted on more sight singing by giving pupils a few seconds in which to think out the problems in time or tune and then giving me the result of their thought, and in most cases the plan has proved itself a good one. In their song singing I have encouraged them to study the thought contained in the song and then to express to others the story as they understand it.

Without we can teach them or help them to think for themselves and so solve any problem in any ordinary music, without we can make independent musicians able to see and appreciate that which is best in music and so add to their pleasure and happiness and make them better men and women, without we can do this, then is our labor wasted.

I feel that we are being fairly successful in our work and gaining constantly.

Respectfully submitted,

FRED. H. OSGOOD, Music Teacher.

REPORT OF THE SUPERVISOR OF DRAWING.

Mr. W. A. Cragin Superintendent :

The exhibition last June included the work of construction, drawing and color, graded to show the development of the work from the primary through the grammar grades and one year in the high school.

This showed a satisfactory rate of progress.

Parents can help pupils to do better work by showing an interest in what they have done and are doing.

Parents are especially invited to the next exhibition of drawing.

The greater part of the time from September until January was spent, in the grammar grades, in drawing the appearance of solids and natural objects singly and in groups.

From January until March facts of form, including geometric views and working drawings are being taken up.

Greater advancement has been made in model drawing than in any other line of the work.

In the high school but one lesson a week has been given each class since last September, instead of two as heretofore. The number of classes in the school was the cause of the change.

Some drawings showing the masses of light and shade have been made, but in the ordinary school room this cannot be carried to any extent.

The high school is in great need of a room that can be used certain days in a week for light and shade and water color.

Considerable time in the commercial division has been used for mechanical drawing, with good results.

In the high school and the higher grammar grades historic ornament, design and nature study will fill the time from March until June.

The æsthetic element must go hand in hand with the practical.

We are trying to so teach the subject of drawing that pupils will go forth to their life work with eyes that can see, minds that can think, hands that can do, that "they shall find health, wealth and happiness in honest toil and see in the ordinary surroundings of life, in the crystals of the rocks, in the humble grass and modest flower; in air and sea and stars, the ineffable and inexhaustible beauties of God's historic ornament and design."

I wish to give thanks to the teachers for their earnest cooperation and to the superintendent and members of the school board for counsel and kind support.

Respectfully submitted,

LUCY N. NELSON.

REPORT OF TRUANT OFFICER.

To W. N. Cragin, Superintendent of Schools:

I have the honor to present herewith my annual report in tabulated form, of all work performed in my department for the year ending February 15, 1896.

SCHOOL CENSUS.

I commenced to take the enumeration of children between five and sixteen years of age the second week in April, and continued until completed, with the following result.

Number of children attending school :

Boys	585
Girls	599
Total	1,184

Number of children not attending any school :

Boys	3
Girls	2
Total	5

Total	1,189
-----------------	-------

TRUANCY.

That the responsibility for truancy should not be laid wholly on the children is shown repeatedly by the results of investigations. Instances that are reported to the teachers as truan-cies and reported to me for investigation are sometimes assumed by the parents as cases of permission to remain out of school.

It is not infrequent for the parents to give a different statement to me from what the absentee gives to his mates. The following will serve as illustration of my statement : One case of absence where the parents alleged sickness proved to be for the purpose of gathering dandelion greens. Every community has, however, a small minority of children to whom school life is distasteful, who do not willingly submit to the necessary discipline of the schools, and tends to insubordination and truancy. This source of trouble is slowly but gradually decreasing. Particular effort is needed to help those children whose parents are both employed in the mills. Such children need almost constant watching and encouragement. In these cases, by persistent effort, most of the children who need especial attention are induced to attend.

Number of visits to schools	2,735
Cases of absenteeism investigated	1,025
Of visits to mf'g and other establishments	50
Children found employed contrary to law	20
Truancies determined by investigations	25
Employers notified	10
Put in school as direct result of officers' work	145
Parents notified to send their children to school	7

CONTAGIOUS DISEASES.

I would state in connection with this branch of the service that the rules governing the attendance of pupils, residing in families where a contagious disease exists, have been strictly enforced, and none were allowed to attend or return to school, without the approval of the Board of Health.

LABOR CERTIFICATES

Number of certificates unexpired Feb. 15, 1895	32
Certificates issued during the year	48
Total	80
Number of children returned to school	30
Children become 16 years of age	14
Children moved from the city	7
Certificates unexpired	29
Total	80

Parents and guardians who encourage their children to believe that attendance at school is their chief business, their attendance is regular and prompt. They go in the right spirit, for they feel that the schools are for their help and encouragement, that the teachers to whom they are entrusted are interested in them, and that school work, as a rule, is not drudgery.

I take this opportunity of returning my thanks to the school board and superintendent for their co-operation and support in my work. I am under the highest obligations to the parents and teachers who have given information and aid, to the members of the police department who have given valuable assistance when required, and to the ladies who have furnished clothing for indigent children in order to enable them to attend school.

Respectfully submitted,

HENRY L. WILKINSON, Truant Officer.
